Jacobs Creek Classic. Chardonnay, Pinot Grigio, Shiraz Rose, Sauvignon Blanc, Shiraz

Most wine scribes when talking Jacobs would be going off about the history, since 1847 on the banks of Jacobs Creek and how many Medals have been won but not us we reckon the success of the brand is based on their forward thinking approach "just grab that ball and run attitude". For example not so long ago it became pretty obvious that Australians were taking to Pinot Gris in a big way, and guess what as quick as a flash the Jacobs Classic Team are not knocking but breaking down the door with samples of easily the best budget priced Pinot, tasting like a $20 bottle. We do admire one little bit of Jacobs Creek Classic history though, their core strength Varieties Chardonnay, Riesling and Shiraz are brilliant every year, batting so far above their weight in cost price.

Lobster Bay Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc 2016

You probably recall the story, back in 2009 that good NZ Sauvignon Blanc was not stable in quality or price, sometimes they lacked the famous fruit character and at times the prices were up and down like a yo-yo, so we sailed across the ditch and Lobster Bay was our own. Part of our rigorous quality control is to taste bottles from every container and we have noticed that the quality was actually improving and when sales figures were checked it seems you noticed as well, sales well up. A quick call to the winemaker revealed all, the vineyard owners are so happy with our business their board has instructed him to use even better and more expensive Marlborough fruit.

How Sweet and enjoyable
It Is

Warburn Premium Reserve Moscato

Moscato is the Italian way of saying Muscat and it sounds oh so Romantic and Latin and of course the Australian wine marketers are all for it and why not, we love a little romance too. Moscato fruit is versatile, it can be the basis for the beautiful Italian Asti Spumante, and the stunning fortified Muscat's of Northern Victoria and South Australia and as in this case with Warburn a lovely sweet white. In one sentence an apt description would be liquid passion fruit without the seeds and with alcohol. If you find it a little too sweet add some ice cubes to the glass.

Exceptional
Value

Nobilo Hawkes Bay Pinot Gris 2015

The Winemaker had the grapes picked at Hawkes Bay North Island NZ when very mature just when he thought the flavour, sugar and acid was in balance. After pressing the skins were discarded immediately and he introduced a slow cold fermentation in stainless steel. Its bouquet is of apple and pear, the palate fruit driven with a pleasant touch of dryness. Crying out for a good lunch.

Penfolds Show
How To Make
The Best Cheaper
Wines Too!

Rawson Retreat Cabernet Sauvignon, Shiraz, Merlot, and Shiraz Cabernet

Penfolds are top of the class with their expensive wines, their middle of the road classics and also these modestly priced Rawsons display an amazing level of quality. If you have not had one lately try a bottle and we are sure you will return for a case or two, in fact we expect most of the wine sold in this promotion will be by the case. Each of these wines is true to its grape variety, the Shiraz, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot fruit flavours jump out of the glass and then the "Perfect Penfolds Influences" work their magic and the result, velvety smooth, subtle oak, not too big with a soft tannin finish, BARGAIN..

The Golden West

Cape Geographe Margaret River Semillon Sauvignon Blanc 2016

We have been anxiously awaiting this most beautiful wine from Margaret River, which represents the best of the Golden West. The two classical varieties, Semillon and Sauvignon Blanc, are combined in a way that enhances both and whatever the mysterious alchemy is that leads to great grape and then wine flavours this combination delivers a near perfect score. This wine is made in small volumes, for this vintage only 500 cases and is hand selected by 37 year Margaret River veteran Alastair Gillespie, who is the Chief Winemaker at Flinders Bay Wines, where they also custom make a range of wines for clients who have no winery or are only partly established. With this Cape Geographe Alastair is able to use his vast knowledge to make and/or assist blending a superior wine, the result is again a sensation with this vintage.

Underline Shiraz and Semillon, Sauvignon Blanc

Every home should have some quaffing wine for that occasion such as: the relos or workmates with just one bottle for 4 people, your team just lost or you just need one more glass and it doesn't need to be Grange. And cooking of course (the old saying "I cook with wine and sometimes I even put it in the food too"). As usual we have purchased well and though it is cheap it is value for money.

Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc

Nobile Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc 2016

A wonderful, punchy, crisply textured, Sauvignon Blanc from Marlborough in New Zealand. If you love the taste of Granny Smith apples you will love the taste of these wines. Even closer is the taste and smell of gopseberries. We are blessed that the quantities of these wines are plentiful and next time you raise a glass say, "thank you New Zealand"

Fresh and Vibrant

Rangi Tane Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc

We get a little nervous when products are represented after being off the market for a time, we are nervous they are trying to trade off their previous good name, so we of course taste, it is a hard job. We need not have worried the current Rangi has all the qualities that modern Marlborough is famous for and plenty of them. When the NZ Savvies started their popularity rocket launch in the 80s and 90s many wine purists said it would not last, just a quick fad, perhaps now we trust words are being eaten.

Classy Marlborough Savvy

Giesen Sauvignon Blanc 2016

We all live in a numbers game and the number of bottles sold when Giesen is on special tells us it is definitely a crowd favourite, a classic example of Marlborough Region NZ Sauvignon Blanc. Passionfruit, freshly sliced green apple and rain on cut grass are the bouquet whilst the flavours are vibrant citrus with tropical fruit and a little passionfruit, the balanced acidity leaves the finish crisp and bright. We certainly enjoyed the retasting and concluded that perhaps it is even getting better by the Vintage'.

Marlborough & Excellent

Kim Crawford Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc 2016 and Marlborough Pinot Gris 2016

We have been great fans of the Sauvignon Blanc for many years and now that the price is competitive we decided to look at the Pinot Gris and we were thrilled, the Sauv has a big brother. The Pinot Gris has all the beautiful aromas with perhaps a touch more citrus than the Sauvignon Blanc but the difference is in the mouth the Gris being dry in style very refreshing a hint of spiced pear or apple and a long finish, it is a must try. We are taking nothing away from the Sauv it is one of our favourites but if you normally purchase 6 throw in a couple of Gris too, you will not regret it.

Anthony Walkenhorst, Kim Crawford Winemaker "our aim is to craft wines that are vibrant, fruit driven and generous". Mission Accomplished!

Loads of Juicy Flavour

Upside Down Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc 2016

With loads of juicy flavour and a fair price what else could we had to promote this NZ Sauvignon Blanc. Wine consumers are telling us you cannot have too much of a good thing so we keep looking for wines such as this, even though we have quite a few of these New Zealanders already in stock. Each one is subtly different so just seek out the one you prefer though we would tend not to follow the more expensive wines. In masked tastings we seldom see the difference between the budget and the expensive.
